Dear Sir

The Editors of the "Imperial Dictionary of Biography" have gladly received several notices of men famous in the anti-slavery cause which you have kindly furnished. I am requested by Professor Nichol to send you an official note requesting you to continuous new contributions.

It is with great pleasure that I now in name of Mr. Mackenzie the Publisher of the work make the request. We are exceedingly anxious to have the names in this great cause fairly noticed in our pages.

As to the number of names to be inserted & the length to be given to each, you can of course judge best. We can allow ten pages in all for this department, you can if common sense. That space as you see fit. This only I may say it is our rule rather to give pretty full notices of important men than to take up space with a large number of names of less note.

As to remuneration R.
Mackay's usual terms are 20/ for every printed page. I will gladly receive as soon as possible all the notices you intend to publish to the end of ~~the~~ the year

I am Sir,

Yours very Respectfully
